

Chapter 1: Introduction

This page is about general course topics.

Chapter 2: Operating Systems

Operating systems can be classified into several types, including batch operating systems, multiprogramming operating systems, real-time operating systems, and distributed operating systems.

Chapter 3: Deadlock

A deadlock occurs when processes wait for each other forever.